What is Special Olympics?

Special Olympics Texas Mission

The mission of Special Olympics is to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy and participate in the sharing of gifts, skills and friendships with their families, other Special Olympics athletes and the community.

In the Beginning

Eunice Kennedy Shriver...

Started a day camp for individuals with intellectual disabilities in 1960 and saw the possibilities. Organized the first International Special Olympics Games at Soldier Field in Chicago, Illinois in 1968.

Special Olympics Starts in Texas

June 1969 - Special Olympics gets its start in Texas, within the recreation division of the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens (TARC). The first Summer Games is held at Paul Tyson Stadium in Waco, with 350 athletes competing in 10 track and field events.

June 2009 - Special Olympics Texas, Inc. celebrates its 40th anniversary.

Unique from Other Sports Organizations

- Sports opportunities for all ability levels
- Divisioning for equitable competition
- Awards for all participants
- Random draw for advancement to national and international levels of competition

Our Athletes Deserve...

- To receive appropriate instruction and encouragement.
- Consistent training and coaching performed at a professional level.
- Opportunities to compete with athletes of equal abilities.
- New opportunities for life-changing experiences.

How Many Lives Do We Touch Worldwide?

- In 1968, approx. 1,000 athletes participated in Special Olympics.
- In 2014, approx. 4.4 million people with intellectual disabilities in more than 200 countries participated in Special Olympics.

Texas Athlete Numbers

2010 – 40,773

2011 – 44,153

2012 – 44,541

2013 – 51,319

2014 – 52,446

2015 – 55,232

Worldwide Structure

Special Olympics, Inc. Board of Directors - oversees all programs around the world

National Programs - region-based, such as Special Olympics North America

Chapter Programs - state-based such as Special Olympics Texas

Area Programs - county-based

Local Programs - district/community based

SOTX Chapter Structure

The Athletes

Board of Directors - Set policies/procedures

President & CEO - Implements Board directives

Chapter Staff/Committees - Oversee implementation of policies

Area/Program Directors - Oversee Area Mgmt. Teams and local coordinators

Development Directors - Oversee fund raising at all levels

Area Management Teams - Oversee all (competition, training, fund raising, volunteers) at an area

Athletes Must:

- Be 8 years or older to compete in local/area competition and 12 years or older to compete in a chapter competition.*
- Have been identified as having intellectual disabilities or a closely related developmental disability.

*(may begin to train from 2-7 years of age via the Young Athletes™ program)

Definition of Eligibility:

Eligibility is limited to people who have closely related developmental disabilities such as those who have functional limitations, both in general learning and adaptive skills such as recreation, work, independent living, self-direction or self-care.

(General learning limitations refers to substantial deficits in conceptual, practical and social intelligence that will result in performance problems in academic learning and/or general life functioning. Adaptive skill limitations refers to ongoing performance deficits in skill areas considered essential to successful life functioning.)

People with functional limitations based solely on a physical, behavioral, emotional, specific learning disability or sensory disability are not eligible.

Athletes Are Individuals Who...

Demonstrate substantial limitations in present functioning characterized by:

- Sub-average intellectual functioning
- Limitations in two or more areas of adaptive behavior
- Usually manifested before age 18

Adaptive Behavior Areas

- Communication
- Self-care
- Home living
- Social Skills
- Leisure
- Health and Safety
- Work
- Academics

Degree of Independence

The athletes have varying degrees of independence:

- Intermittent – support given only as needed
- Limited – limited support given on an as-needed basis
- Extensive – intense support in some environments
- Pervasive – high intensity in most environments

Benefits for Athletes...

Demonstrated increases in performance at work, school, and home that correspond directly with the length of time an athlete spends in a Special Olympics program.

(Yale University Study -1995)

Significantly improved attitudes toward school and physical education activities after participation in Special Olympics.

A Place For All Ability Levels!

All Special Olympics sports have events to meet the needs of the various ability levels.

For example, basketball offers:

Individual Skills Contest

Team Skills Basketball

3-on-3 Half Court Basketball

5-on-5 Full Court Basketball

Unified Sports Basketball

Motor Activities Training Program (MATP)

- Designed for athletes with severe or profound intellectual disabilities who are unable to participate in Official Special Olympics sports.
- The program helps prepare these athletes for sport-specific activities appropriate for their abilities.
- Opportunity to train for and perform their personal best at culminating motor development events, without comparison to others.

MATP Activities

MATP will introduce athletes with severe disabilities to age-appropriate and functionally appropriate motor and sports activities. These activities include:

- Mobility – leading to gymnastics
- Dexterity – leading to athletics
- Striking – leading to softball
- Kicking – leading to soccer
- Aquatics – leading to swimming

Young Athletes Program (YAP)

Program was developed for children with intellectual disabilities ages two through seven.

Sports play program is designed to introduce these children to the world of sports prior to SOTX eligibility at age eight.

Young Athletes Program (YAP)

The program addresses two levels of play:

1. Activities focus on developing fundamental motor tracking and eye-hand coordination through a variety of developmental activities.
2. Young Athletes then apply these physical skills through a sports skills activity program to establish a foundation for sports participation.

The foundation is essential for these Young Athletes as they enter a lifetime of sports with Special Olympics Texas.

Unified Sports

- Brings together athletes with intellectual disabilities and without intellectual disabilities (called partners) to train and compete on the same team.
- Concept first introduced in the United States in the mid-1980s to provide another level of challenge for higher ability athletes and to promote equality and inclusion.
- Enables athletes to improve their physical fitness, sharpen their skills, have new competition experiences, socialize with peers and develop new friendships.

About SOTX Competitions

The competition must adhere to:

- National Governing Body rules (NGB).
- Official Special Olympics Sports Rules.
- SOTX Information Guide (SIG).

The competition must:

- Provide all athletes with the opportunity to excel.
- Utilize assessment and classifications for team sports.

Where Can We Compete?
